Dr. Russ Daly, SDSU Extension Veterinarian, joined the meeting by phone and presented information about Salmonella Dublin in cattle and people.

Dr. Anderson gave an overview of the Cooperative Interstate Shipment (CIS) Program, interest and costs associated with implementation. State programs who choose to participate must administer the program in such a way that is "the same as" federal inspection. AIB staff identified 10 establishments that indicated a strong interest in participating in CIS, if it were to be implemented in South Dakota.

The Board discussed with Lt Gov Larry Rhoden the economic impact the CIS program might have on South Dakota meat establishments and livestock producers.

Dr. Reenders reported on the proposed USDA timeline for transitioning to RFID. Under this proposed timeline, beginning January 1, 2023, RFID tags would become the only identification devices approved as an official ear tag for cattle and bison. The official USDA metal tags in place before January 1, 2023, would be recognize as an official identification device for the life of the animal. The USDA APHIS docket is open for comments until October 5, 2020.

Dr Oedekoven discussed the USDA APHIS Docket in which Zoetis has petitioned APHIS VS for authorization to Manufacture FMD Vaccine in the United States.
